Our client is an import supplier of brand name merchandise to DIY building and gardening centers in Germany and Europe. Sales in these product lines to consumers at the point of sale peak in spring and summer. We are looking for a

Cooperation Partner from the supply industry

The ideal company will also have an interest in synergies in logistics, product lines and, most importantly, in field work for Germany and other European countries. Our client expects a partner who today already does sales in the tens of millions and can demonstrate a visible presence in retail outlets. If, instead of a collaborative sales cooperation, you would prefer to consider selling your company, our client is prepared to consider this option as well. The prerequisites for a close and collaborative cooperation are comparable corporate cultures in addition to product lines and delivery focal points which complement each other.

We have been contracted to coordinate the contact and to coach the subsequent integration process of the participating companies if there is an interest in a long-term cooperation. Ewald W. Schneider would be happy to answer your questions in advance and to arrange an initial exploratory discussion at your company. Contact: interim-management@ewald-w-schneider.de

We assure you absolute discretion

P.S. We are sales channel specialists (DIY – three-stage – two-stage – one-stage)

Open for you around the clock.
